the pharmaceutical properties and effectiveness of Cod Liver Oil Emulsion depend, first, on the quality of the ingredients, secondly, on the degree of emulsification, and, thirdly, on its freshness. We use the best ingredients that money can buy. We emulsify (mix) it by electric machinery instead of by hand. We make it in sight—in our avenue window—and deliver it fresh from the machine. Physicians should have their orders filled by us. Special prices for the present.

Our present business hours are 8:15 to 5:30.

Friday's Our Remnant Day.

The plans of this store are the result of most careful thought and deliberation. A fixed purpose, closely followed, strictly adhered to, pervades every department. This purpose is to offer five days of each week complete assortments of fresh, bright, up-to-date merchandise at the lowest prices, reserving one day, Friday, for the clearance of remnantsbroken lines and sizes, odds and ends, short lengths, left overs. And these "left overs" are ofttimes from the choicest goods of the various lines-the quickest sellers. It isn't the goodness of the article, however, but its poorness as merchandise (because of littleness or loneliness) that regulates the price. Shorter the length, smaller the quantity-greater the price reduction. Remnants accumulate very rapidly, and we cannot push them aside or pile them up. Hence to make the quickest possible clearance prices are made half and less.

Many rare bargains for tomorrow, and special attention is called to the Wrap Department.

A Strong Fish and Game Protective Association Organized.

BIG GATHERING AT THE EBBITT HOUSE

Commander Robley D. Evans Becomes the First President.

MANY MEMBERS ENROLLED

Representative sportsmen gathered in Ebbitt House last night in response to a call for a meeting to organize an association for the purpose of securing means to protect game and fish in the District of Columbia. Dr. Walter S. Harban was temporary chairman, with Mr. Rudolph Kauffmann temporary secretary. A constitution had been prepared by the meeting, and after it was read it was adopted by a unanimous vote. It provided that the organization should be known as the District of Columbia Game and Fish Protective Association, and the chief objects were stated as follows:

"This association is organized to procure the enactment of suitable laws for the protection and preservation of game and fish in the District of Columbia, to promote the vigorous enforcement of such laws and to stimulate and assist such action by the several states as may tend to protect and increase the game and fish supply of the inited States.

SECOND NIGHT.

Large Crowd at the McKinley and widow is insanity. When Mrs. Lount's mission here was made known Tuesday because of her visit to police headquarters, people who had received letters from her made complaint to the detectives. Among those who received letters from the woman was one of the most prominent ministers in the city. When these complaints were received Inspector Hollinberger concluded to arrest her. One of the persons who entered complaint against her feared she might do some harm. She called at the detective office yesterday morning because she felt offended at a newspaper article, and it was after this visit that complaint was made about her. Late yesterday afternoon she called again and then she was put under arrest. Then she complaired bitterly of the conduct of the officers in making the arrest, and said she would call on some of her "senator chums" to help her out. As heretofore published in The Star, she wants to be known as the "Mcdern Portia," "Uncle Sam's Baby," "Ferrale Coxey" or "Queen of the Populists." During the campaign she says she was called "McKinley's widow." She seems to have a fondness for shoes, and said yesterday that she had purchased seven pairs of them and had the bill sent to a United States senator.

Mrs. Lount gave her name as Mrs. Robt. B. Lines when she reached Lieut. Kelly's station, and said she was the widow of the lawyer of this name. Today Drs. Nevitt and Hickling, who examined her, adjudged her insane, and this afternoon Sanitary Officer Frank sent her to the asylum. The records show that she was discharged from the asylum as improved, and it may not be necessary to have her tried by a jury. She is extremely anxious to have a jury pass upon her case, however, and the atternoon sentiary officer Frank sent her to the asylum. The records show that she was discharged from the necessary to have her tried by a jury. second night of the carnival, which s now being given at the Masonic Temple by the Woman's Republican Association was a much more successful one than the opening on account of the difference in the weather between Tuesday and last evening. A gay throng was in attendance ast night from the time the doors opened until the last article had been sold and the ast rate of the excellent music furnishe by the crchestra had been silenced. G. R. Phillips acted as the chairman of the even ing, and during the early portion several prominent republican speakers addressed the gathering. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, national president of the Woman's Republican Association, spoke on the work of women in the last campaign; Representative W. E. Andrews of Nebraska spoke on the reduction of the public debt during republican administrations; Representative Curtis of Karsas also spoke of the women who were connected with the recent campaign, while Miss Boswell, president of the Anti-Tammany Society of New York; G. V. Gates, president of the Sound Money League; Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, Capt. E. A. Kreidler and J. R. Garrison, also spoke on various principles of republicanism. Besides the music furnished by the orchestra and the drum corps, Messrs. George C. Ross and B. W. Beebe sang a number of songs dealing with incidents and the victories of the last election. prominent republican speakers addressed

Driving a Horse Smooth Shed.

William Ballinger, stable boss of the Belt Line railway, was fined $5$ and costs to-day by Judge Kimball in the Police Court for cruelty to animals. The offense consisted in driving one of the horses of the company smooth shod Saturday last. The horse slipped on the lee at 9th street and Louisiana avenue and gashed a knee so that it bled profusely.

Messrs, William C, Cleland and John W. Carr have been elected delegates, and Jesse Mann and Charles Coomes, alternates, to represent the Master Painters and Decorators' Association of Washington at the national convention of the organization, to be held in Chicago, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. The delegates and a number of others are expected to start for Chicago Saturday.

FOUND DEAD AT HIS HOME.

Mr. W. R. Sturges Expires Suddenly From Apoplexy.

W. R. Sturges was found dead at his nome, No. 1 Iowa circle, at 6 o'clock last evening. Mr. Sturges had suffered three strokes of apoplexy, but he was feeling so well yesterday afternoon that he advised Mrs. Sturges to make a call on her son

Mrs. Sturges to make a call on her son, who lives here. Mrs. Sturges returned to their home at 6 o'clock and found her husband stretched on the floor of the basement. Dr. Andrade, son of the Venezuelan minister, who lives next door, was called in, but the patient was beyond medical skill. Apoplexy was the cause of death.

Mr. Sturges was seventy-seven years of age, and was a native of Elmira, N. Y. He has resided in this city since the war. At one time he was a commission merchant, doing business on Louisiana avenue, but for the past twenty-five years he has been retired from business. He leaves a widow and three sons. The funeral will be private and will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the interment to be at Lock Creek cemetery.
